Understanding City Utilities

A city ordinance requires that Council annually review the rate structure of our utilities. Although you receive only one bill, the city operates three distinct utilities - - Sanitary Sewer, Water and Stormwater. Many residents are customers of all 3 utilities, while some receive water or sewer from a different source. All residents are customers of the storm-water utility.

In addition to wholesale expenses for water and sewer (yes, we all pay to receive the water then to send it back to be treated), there are expenses in running the utility from equipment and facilities to salaries. One of the largest contributors to our wholesale sewer charge is the introduction of "clear" water into the sanitary sewer system. Clear water is rain or ground water that is introduced into the sanitary sewer system illegally and unnecessarily. The introduction of clear water into the system often happens through connections from downspouts or sump pumps. The result is that all ratepayers of the utility directly pay for these connections through higher sewer utility bills because the discharge is metered as it enters the Fort Wayne City Utilities facilities and we are billed for every gallon in the wastewater system. The clear water introduced into the system also can potentially cause basement backup problems for your neighbors. One sump pump during a rainy day can add as much water to the system as 24 average homes would add on a normal day.

These connections are illegal and cost you and your neighbors every month when you pay your sewer bill. The disconnection of all clear water sources is one easy way we can all save money every month on our utility bills. For more information, please contact Utility Superintendent, Dave Jones at New Haven Public Works at (260) 748-7056.

Republic Services Reminder

Republic Services would like to remind residents to set your trash and/or recycling carts at the curb either the night before your pick up day or by 6:00 a.m. the morning of your pick up day to ensure your trash is collected on your assigned day of service. Trash and recycle carts must also be separated at least 3 feet apart so that the truck's electronic arm can lift and empty your cart. If you have any questions, please call Customer Service at 1-800-766-9001.
