Summer Waste Water Discount

Customers typically use the most water during the summer months; therefore, all residential customers inside the city limits are automatically put on a discounted wastewater rate for the summer. This discount allows customers to use more water while paying less wastewater.

Each customer's discount is unique to their own usage average for the previous months of December, January, February and March. This average becomes the wastewater cap for any water used over and above their average during the summer discount timeframe from (May 9, 2017 - September 6, 2017). Ex: Customer "A" has an average of 5,000 gallons of water from Dec-Mar. June's water usage is 8,500 gallons but they are only charged for 5,000 gallons of wastewater. They are getting a discount of 3,500 gallons on their waste water portion of their bill.

For more information, please contact the New Haven Utility Office at 748-7050.

Severe Weather Are You Prepared?

It's only early spring, yet we have already experienced severe weather in our area. Now is a good time to sit down with your family and talk about severe weather preparedness. Severe thunderstorms and tornadoes can occur without much warning here in the Midwest, so a little preparation now can have a big impact when the weather turns bad.

Here are a few tips to help keep you and your family safe in the event of severe weather.

1. Develop a safe place inside your home, either in the basement or a center room such as a bathroom or closet.

2. If you live in a mobile home, plan now for a safe shelter. Ask someone if you might be able to use their conventionally built home as a shelter.

3. Purchase an emergency weather radio to alert you as bad weather approaches the area.

4. Be aware of local weather via television or radio and plan accordingly.

5. Are you prepared if a severe weather comes through your area? Stock bottled water and other essentials for your family for at least 3 days. Severe weather may cause damage to power lines or disrupt water supplies - so be prepared.

Tornado Siren Warnings

Public safety is always our top priority. The City of New Haven now has nine Tornado Warning Sirens active throughout the community. With our extensive siren coverage, residents can expect the sirens to sound when there has been a tornado warning issued for Allen County, when New Haven is expected to be in or near the warning area, or a credible sighting has been made by trained personnel.

When activated, residents will hear a steady 3 minute tone and should take shelter immediately and tune to any radio or television for information. The sirens may be heard up to a mile [outside residences] and up to 1/2 to 2/3 of a mile [inside homes]. In the event of an active warning, residents can expect the siren to be reactivated if a tornado continues to be a threat to the community. Residents are also encouraged to utilize a commercial weather radio where activation tones will alert for severe weather.

All nine sirens are tested at 12:00 noon on the first Wednesday of each month (weather permitting) and will run for about 30 seconds. If the weather at the time of the test is threatening, the test will be delayed until the following month. Anytime unscheduled maintenance is needed on any of the sirens where an audible test is required, it will also be carried out only when the weather is not threatening.
